Covenant College

HISTORY

Covenant College, operating under the Presbyterian Church in America, is committed to the Bible as the Word of God written and accepts as its guiding interpretation the summary contained in The Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms. That commitment is expressed in the college’s motto based on Colossians 1:18, “In all things Christ preeminent.”

Covenant strives to be a Reformed learning community which recognizes and responds appropriately to Christ’s rule over creation and all areas of life through rigorous academic inquiry. A Covenant College education is designed to produce knowledge, skills, and values that equip students to serve effectively and live responsibly in a rapidly changing world.

Covenant offers associate and baccalaureate degrees in liberal arts disciplines and selected pre-professional programs as well as graduate degrees in education. Covenant provides a Christ-centered education to students from a wide range of denominational, geographic, ethnic, and financial backgrounds through scholarly classroom instruction and experiential opportunities.

On April 5, 1955, the Presbytery of the Great Plains met in Wilton, North Dakota, to consider establishing a liberal arts college under the Bible Presbyterian Synod. The college was organized by the Synod and named “Covenant” by Dr. Robert G. Rayburn, the school’s first president. In the fall of 1955, the school began operation at the Pasadena City Church in Pasadena, California. Covenant was to be a Christian liberal arts college acknowledging Christ’s preeminence to help Christians learn to live as active, reforming members of a complex society. In 1956 Covenant College moved to St. Louis, Missouri. The first property purchased in St. Louis, from Millstone Construction Company, consisted of 25 acres, with one building located in the center that was used for all functions.

A number of professors from Faith Theological Seminary near Philadelphia came to St. Louis, and Covenant became a four-year liberal arts college and a three-year theological seminary operated by one board and one administration.

An order of Catholic sisters at nearby St. John’s Hospital donated a building to the college, which eventually became the administration building. Both the college and the seminary increased in size, and soon a new residence hall was needed. Mr. Hugh Smith heard that the “Castle in the Clouds” hotel near Chattanooga, Tennessee, was for sale. After much debate, the old hotel was purchased for Covenant College in 1964. Today the college campus contains a total of 200 acres and Covenant Seminary remains at the original campus.

Covenant has had six presidents: Dr. Robert Rayburn, Dr. Marion Barnes, Dr. Martin Essenburg, Dr. Frank Brock, Dr. Niel Nielson, and Dr. Derek Halvorson, who began serving July, 2012.

Graduate School of Education

The Master of Education began in 1991 and accreditation at the master’s level was granted by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) December 15, 1993. The Master of Arts in Teaching was added and began in 2011, at which time the Graduate School of Education was created. In 2021, The Graduate Certificate in Christian Education was added.

Mission: The mission of the Covenant College Graduate School of Education is to develop and equip biblically faithful educators.

The Graduate School of Education at Covenant College provides a Christian community for graduate study. Prior to the on-campus session students prepare by reading books and articles, collecting information, and writing reflectively. In the on-campus session, students share their lives, their thoughts, and their plans resulting in a support network of Christian educators. Covenant graduate students learn how their faith relates to their work with learners who bear the image of God. Three graduate degree programs make up the Graduate School of Education: Master of Arts in Teaching and Master of Education in either Educational Leadership or Integrated Curriculum and Instruction.
MAJOR OF ARTS IN TEACHING

The Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) is a 34 credit hour program in the following academic areas (grade levels of certification in parentheses):

- Art (P-12)
- Biblical Studies (6-12; ACSI only; state certification not available)
- Biology (6-12)
- Chemistry (6-12)
- Computer Science (P-12)
- Drama (P-12)
- Economics (6-12)
- English (6-12)
- French (P-12)
- German (P-12)
- History (6-12)
- Mathematics (6-12)
- Music (P-12)
- Physics (6-12)
- Political Science (6-12)
- Spanish (P-12)
- Middle grades level (grades 4-8) certification is available with any two specializations in:
  - Language Arts
  - Mathematics
  - Science
  - Social Studies

Students with undergraduate degrees in other content areas may be eligible for the MAT and should contact the graduate school office for details.

The Master of Teaching program is an eleven-month, pedagogy-only, initial teaching certification program in multiple content areas. Students in the Chattanooga area can attend all of their classes on campus, but the hybrid option allows students with teaching jobs in other locations to enroll, taking their fall and spring semester evening classes online synchronistically with students on campus.

1. Certification and Workable Schedule. The MAT allows candidates to complete a degree in one year, obtain the Induction Certificate from the GaPSC, and become eligible for a certificate from the Association of Christian Schools International in their desired teaching area. Summer classes are taught in a three-week session Monday – Friday 8:30 am – 5:00 pm, while classes are held in the evening during fall and spring semesters with clinical practice during daytime hours. It is possible for current teachers who desire state certification and a master’s degree to complete the program while employed full or part time.

2. Clinical Practice. MAT students complete about 1000 hours of clinical practice during the fall and spring semesters.

3. Collaboration. The MAT benefits from partnerships with area schools and collaboration with colleagues from other academic departments in the college. Content specialists in other disciplines work with the Education Department in transcript review, remediation plans as needed, collaboration, and supervision of clinical practice.

4. Research. One innovative aspect of the MAT is the emphasis on classroom research. This focus enables candidates to understand the value and limitations of educational research and to develop the values of self-reflection and self-evaluation as they conduct action research through various courses.

5. Theory and Practice. Theory and practice are integrated in the program with a combination of on-campus classes combined with field practicum activities in area schools. On-campus coursework is presented by a faculty that has both practical and research experience. All candidates complete a full year of clinical practice (fall and spring semesters) in P-12 classrooms under the supervision and mentorship of experienced classroom teachers and Covenant faculty. Candidates gain experience working with students at different grade levels from different socioeconomic, racial/ethnic and linguistic backgrounds, and students with exceptionalities.

For most students, the MAT will be completed in one year with six credit hours in the summer term, 15 credit hours in the fall term, and 15 credit hours in the spring term. Students can choose to complete the MAT as a two-year course of study. The degree must be completed within six years.

MAJOR OF EDUCATION

The Master of Education (MEd) is a 30 credit hour program with two specializations: Educational Leadership (EL) and Integrated Curriculum and Instruction (ICI). Upon completion of either specialization, candidates are eligible for a certificate from the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI). Additional information about certification may be found in the MEd certification section of this catalog.

The MEd requires three weeks on campus for two summers. Each course consists of three sessions: pre-campus, on-campus, and post-campus.

Pre-campus session: The pre-campus session begins with registration (February-April) and includes significant coursework within a variety of assignments: reading of texts and articles, writing, analysis, data gathering, and reflection using, independent directed study. The intent of the pre-campus work is to give background to and prepare students for the on-campus session.

On-campus session (summer): The on-campus session consists of one week on campus per course during which instructional activities are widely varied. This session occurs for three weeks late June through mid-July. Classes meet 8:30 am to 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday.

Post-campus session: The post-campus session consists of projects, exams, research, or papers in which students apply what they are learning to their own school settings. This session begins at the conclusion of the summer session and ends December 15.

EDU 785 (EL) and EDU 790 (ICI) are capstone courses and conclude March 1 of the final year in the MEd.

Semester 1: Summer and Fall
- 3 classes consisting of pre-campus, on-campus, and post-campus components
- 1 online class
Total: 12 credit hours

Semester 2: Spring
- 2 online classes
Total: 6 credit hours

Semester 3: Summer and Fall
- 3 classes consisting of pre-campus, on-campus, and post-campus components
- 1 Capstone Course
Total: 12 credit hours

It is possible to extend the program beyond two years but not beyond six years. Occasionally due to unusual circumstances, a student is unable to complete the MEd within the six year limit. Application may be made to the Dean of the Graduate School of Education to extend the program. If extended, continuation fees apply.

ADVISORS

All individuals admitted to the Graduate School of Education are assigned an academic advisor. Students are encouraged to contact their advisor with questions about their program of study.

AUDITING

Because the effectiveness of the program is directly related to active participation of students in all assignments, no auditing of courses is permitted in any graduate program.
AUTHORIZATION BY THE STATE OF GEORGIA

Covenant College is authorized to operate educational programs beyond secondary education, including programs that lead to a degree or a certificate by executive order of the governor of the State of Georgia. The Office of Inspector General is designated as the state agency responsible for receiving complaints made by students enrolled in private post-secondary education.

CATASTROPHIC EVENT POLICY

In case of catastrophic events, the college will implement procedures in the Emergency Operations Plan, the Disaster Recovery Plan, and Virtual Server Disaster Recovery Plan. In the case of a catastrophic event that interrupts the regular delivery of distance instruction for more than a brief period of time, the college will either offer refunds of tuition or an alternative method of completing the courses for which students are registered. Since no program of the college is offered completely online, arrangements may include replacement of instruction with face-to-face instruction on the college campus.

CONDUCT, DISCIPLINE PROCEDURES AND APPEALS

The following general regulations regarding student conduct apply to Graduate School of Education students:

1. Smoking and possession and use of alcohol and drugs are not permitted on campus.
2. Scripture specifically describes practices which are morally wrong, and are therefore unacceptable for all students while enrolled at Covenant College. Among these practices are drunkenness, adultery, and fornication (defined as cohabitation and/or premarital sexual relationships of a heterosexual or homosexual nature), stealing, slanderous talk, gossip, profanity, lying, cheating, and possession of obscene or pornographic materials.
3. Plagiarism involves quoting, paraphrasing, or in other ways using sources without proper acknowledgment. See extended statement regarding plagiarism in this catalog.

Violation of any of the regulations regarding conduct will be considered as grounds for discipline which could result in immediate dismissal.

Students accused of infractions are given notice either in writing or in a disciplinary information meeting so that the alleged misconduct is clearly understood. The student’s case is heard and decided by the Dean of the Graduate School of Education.

The student may choose to appeal the decision to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, who may modify the decision of the Dean. Such an appeal must be submitted within two working days after the Dean’s decision. If the student wishes, the case may be further appealed to the President of the college. This appeal must be submitted within two working days after the decision by the Vice President.

COSTS

It is the desire of Covenant College, within the limits of its available funds, to offer its educational opportunities to all who qualify for admission, regardless of individual economic circumstances.

The cost of an education at Covenant is only partly covered by tuition charges; the balance is paid from contributions made by friends and alumni of the College. Because of increasing costs, the Covenant College Board of Trustees reserves the right to make changes at any time in the tuition charges and other general and special fees as needed.

All account balances are due in full at the start of the term. If the account balance is not paid in full, a finance charge will be assessed at the end of each month on the unpaid balance. To avoid late payments, students should check their account balance on-line. Accounts must be fully paid each term before a student can register for a subsequent term, view grades, or receive a transcript.

Tuition and fees for MAT and MEd are listed under those sections of the catalog.

CREDIT HOUR DEFINITION

Consistent with industry best practices, Covenant has established a credit hour to be the amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates:

1. Not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours out of class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time.
2. One credit hour will be awarded for no less than every two hours of other academic activities as established by the instruction including laboratory work, practice, studio work, and other academic work leading to the awarding of credit hours, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time. Covenant College does not offer distance learning or correspondence courses.
Covenant College offers students reasonable accommodations for disabilities in accordance with the guidelines of the Americans with Disabilities Act. A student must provide current documentation of the disability from a licensed professional and complete the Disability Accommodation Application. Once an accommodation has been approved, the student must contact the Center for Student Success at the beginning of each semester for which accommodation is requested. Approved accommodations will be made within a reasonable time period after receiving a written request. Students who are receiving disability accommodations are encouraged to establish a relationship with the Director of Academic Support to receive additional training and assistance in working with disabilities as a college student.

EXTENDED TIME FOR TESTING

Students who have on file in the Center for Student Success a psychological evaluation completed within the last three years that recommends extended time for testing shall be granted that accommodation on a case-by-case basis at the recommendation of the Director of Academic Support. Students who provide verification that their primary language is not English may also be granted that accommodation on a case-by-case basis when the Director of Academic Support determines that extended time for testing is warranted. Typically, extended time for testing would apply to all in-class assessments including tests and quizzes, and will entail 1.5 times the normal test period. The Director of Academic Support can make recommendation for additional accommodations on a case-by-case basis. If the professor cannot make arrangements to provide the additional proctoring, the Director of Academic Support should be contacted for assistance. Despite the accommodation regarding the administration of tests and quizzes, all other assignments to be completed outside of class and during labs will be due according to the announced dates.

FINANCIAL AID

To be considered for financial assistance an individual must be accepted and registered for one of the degree programs of the Graduate School of Education for a minimum of six semester hours. Eligibility for assistance is established through financial aid application submitted annually to the Financial Aid Office at Covenant
College. With the exception of the Church Scholarship Promise and tuition grant program, financial assistance is based on financial need. Covenant College uses the standard federal calculations to determine financial need.

Financial aid information is included on the graduate website and with the registration packet. Financial aid grants may not be used to fund tuition deposits. Returning students who have previously received federal student loans must register within 90 days from the last end term date to remain in deferment status.

Federal aid will be earned on a prorated basis up to 60% of the term of attendance.

GRADES

Grades in the Graduate School of Education have the following meaning. Professors may modify standard letter grades with a plus or minus with the exception of A+.

A Represents work of distinctly superior quality and quantity accompanied by unusual evidence of initiative, thoroughness, and originality.

B Represents work showing the above qualities to a lesser extent.

C Represents fulfillment of the minimum essentials of a course. Only one course with the grade of C will be applied to graduation requirements.

D Represents unacceptable work. The course must be repeated to be applied toward the degree.

F Represents failure. The standing of any student earning an F will be reviewed for continuation in the program. The course must be repeated to be applied toward the degree.

I Represents incomplete coursework. May be given to a student who has a valid reason for not completing some requirements of the course. Any Incomplete (I) granted for a course not completed by the date specified will be replaced with an F. All work for a course with an incomplete grade must be submitted to the instructor by the specified date or on the Monday morning following if the specified date falls on a weekend. Financial aid eligibility for the next term is determined based on the resulting grade point average.

W Represents official withdrawal from a course. The student receives no credit for that course or for work which may have been completed while registered for the course.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE

Grade point averages are computed on a 4.0 scale; an A is assigned the value of 4.0, a B is assigned 3.0, a C is assigned 2.0, and a D is assigned 1.0. Only one course with the grade of C will be applied to graduation requirements. If a course is repeated, the most recent grade is used in computing the grade point average. No grade below B is accepted by transfer. A minimum grade point average of 3.0 is required for continuation in and completion of the degree.

Covenant does not offer noncredit coursework and does not accept noncredit coursework to fulfill degree requirements and awarding of degrees

LIBRARY SERVICES

The Anna Emma Kresge Memorial Library represents the critical center of the academic enterprise at Covenant College. The library exists to facilitate and promote learning through its physical facilities, dynamic collections, and services performed by professional librarians and skilled support staff. It plays a significant role in fulfilling the mission of the College by providing bibliographic instruction, carefully selected resources in a variety of media formats, personalized research assistance, and information literacy competency training using a biblical frame of reference from within the Reformed tradition.

The Kresge Memorial Library seats about 250 on two floors. The first floor contains seating and furnishings that encourages engagement with library staff, faculty, and other students. Reading tables, individual study carrels, soft seating, and a coffee lounge offer a warm, inviting environment. The second floor is a quiet study area housing carrels, semi-private group study rooms, the campus Art Gallery, the Writing Center, the Center for Student Success, the College Archives, and a lounge/retreat room for receptions and other special events. While the entire building is configured for wireless access to the campus network, the library also provides wired network connectivity through public computers appropriately equipped for research and writing.

Collections include print and electronic books, print and electronic subscriptions to journals, magazines and newspapers, back files of periodicals accessible through the Web and in print, streaming audio and video databases, films on DVD and Blu-Ray, and over 200 general and subject-specific research databases. Many of these databases are available through GALILEO, Georgia's “Virtual Library.”

By using a web-scale, cloud-based, integrated, single-search box online catalog, WorldCat Discovery Services, library users may explore, identify, and access print and electronic resources held in the Kresge Library as well as those located in thousands of other libraries worldwide. Students may connect to the library's electronic resources from off-campus locations with appropriate campus network authentication. The library will ship circulating items from its print and media collections to graduate students and pay postage costs. Through its membership in OCLC, the world's largest provider of bibliographic services, the library networks with thousands of other institutions worldwide to provide interlibrary loan and document delivery services. Standard interlibrary loan transaction costs are subsidized by the library.

The library’s web site, http://library.covenant.edu, provides more detailed information on collections, discipline-specific resource guides, policies, and other services.

PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING

As is clear from the definition of plagiarism below, Covenant College includes under the more narrow term “plagiarism” most, if not all, academic misbehavior usually designated by the word “cheating” — that is, the giving or receiving of illegitimate assistance, especially under circumstances when not collaboration but one's own individual work is expected and when a student presents material as his or her own individual work.

Plagiarism is inconsistent with good scholarship. Covenant College considers plagiarism a moral matter as well as a legal matter. It does this on the assumption that the function of a Christian college is not only to impart knowledge but also to nurture moral character of the student writer.

- Plagiarism is a deception—of the instructor, obviously, but no less of the student writer. Cheating hides individuals from the encounter with who they really are, what they really can do, or what they can be.
- Plagiarism is a theft of the materials themselves, but no less of the right of the cheater's fellow students to equal consideration, for in effect the plagiarized paper throws all other papers in competition with work that likely has already been judged superior.
- Plagiarism breeds a moral atmosphere which denies all students the dignity and freedom due them as human beings. Inevitably, one cheater throws the taint of suspicion upon all, the entire climate is poisoned, and mutual respect is endangered.
- Plagiarism perverts the values of humane education when the instructor is forced to give extraordinary attention to the integrity of the grade and can no longer assume the integrity of the student.
- Plagiarism is a sin, a violation of the Eighth Commandment. It is inimical to the values and ideals of a Christian educational institution.

According to the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (7th ed.; 2009; print; p. 52), plagiarism is:

> Derived from the Latin word plagiarius (“kidnapper”), to plagiarize means “to commit literary theft” and to “present as new and original an idea or product derived from an existing source” (Merriam-Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary [11th ed.; 2003; print]). Plagiarism involves two kinds of wrongs. Using another person's ideas, information, or expressions without acknowledging that person's work constitutes intellectual theft. Passing off another person's ideas, information, or expressions as your own to get a better grade or gain some other advantage constitutes fraud.

In its discussion of the nature of plagiarism, the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (7th ed.; 2009; print; p. 56) also notes three “less conspicuous forms of plagiarism,” including “the failure to give appropriate acknowledgment when repeating or paraphrasing another’s wording, when taking a particularly apt phrase, and when paraphrasing another’s argument or presenting another’s line of thinking.”

Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Part or all of a written or spoken assignment copied from another person’s manuscript without proper documentation.
Part or all of an assignment copied or paraphrased from a source (books, journals, newspapers, magazines, digital resources, web sites, charts, graphs, music scores, sound recordings, video recordings) without proper documentation

- Presenting as original (or paraphrased) the sequence of ideas, arrangement of material, or pattern of thought contained in another person’s work
- Allowing a paper, in outline or finished form, to be copied and submitted as the work of another person
- Preparing an assignment for another student and allowing him/her to submit it as his/her own work
- Keeping a written or digital archive of documents with the intent that they be copied and submitted as the work of another person
- Handing in one’s own work to satisfy more than one assignment without the permission of all instructors.

A paraphrase is the rewording of another’s ideas or the summary of another’s work, and even if the wording is distinctly different from the original source, the original source should be cited. If a person copies a distinctive phrase or description using the same words and word-order of the original source, these should be enclosed in quotation marks, with an appropriate reference.

To avoid plagiarism, the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (7th ed.; 2009; print; p. 61) suggests:

- making a list of the writers and viewpoints you discovered in your research and using this list to double-check the presentation of material in your paper
- keeping the following three categories distinct in your notes: your ideas, your summaries of others’ materials, and exact wording you copy
- identifying the sources of all material you borrow—exact wording, paraphrases, ideas, arguments, and facts
- checking with your instructor when you are uncertain about your use of sources

Procedures and penalties for violations of academic integrity

Covenant College assumes the honor and integrity of its students. If someone should abuse this confidence, the college is prepared to act as follows:

1. An instructor who finds evidence of plagiarism or any violation of academic integrity will first discuss with the student the nature of the case, including its moral implications and its academic ramifications. Plagiarism normally results in a mark of zero for the plagiarized work. Instructors also have the prerogative to fail the student in the course or to recommend to the Dean of the Graduate School of Education that a student be dismissed from the graduate program.

2. After discussing the evidence with a student, an instructor should notify a student of any sanction for the plagiarism or cheating. Initial notification may be verbal, but should also be accompanied by written and electronic confirmation. A copy of this penalty policy, along with specific information needed for an appeal, should accompany the written and electronic notifications to the student.

3. Regardless of any other actions, once an instructor determines a student has committed the intentional plagiarism or cheating, the instructor must document and notify the Office of Academic Affairs of the incident. The Office of Academic Affairs will keep record of all incidents and will report multiple violations by the same student to the Academic Standards Committee for review and possible further action.

4. After being sent notification of a sanction, a student may appeal within two business days to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Vice President will normally either uphold or deny the appeal; in rare instances, and after consultation with the instructor and student involved, the Vice President may suggest an alternate sanction for the instructor to impose.

Privacy rights of students

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student’s educational records within 45 days of the day Covenant receives a request for access. A student should submit to the Office of Records or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the records the student wishes to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student’s educational records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights under FERPA. A student who wishes to request Covenant to amend a record should write the appropriate official clearly identifying the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed. If Covenant decides not to amend the record as requested, Covenant will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student’s right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

Covenant discloses education records without a student’s prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A Covenant official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an educational record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities. A Covenant official is a person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom Covenant has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using Covenant employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

Covenant designates the following categories of student information as public or “directory information.” Such information may be disclosed by the institution for any purpose at its discretion:

- Biographical: Name, address, telephone number, email address, photograph and video
- Enrollment: Dates of attendance, enrollment status, class, previous institution(s) attended, major field of study, awards, honors, degrees conferred (including dates).
- Athletic: Past and present participation in officially recognized sports and activities, physical factors (height, weight of athletes), date and place of birth.

Currently enrolled students may withhold disclosure of directory information under FERPA by submitting a written request to withhold disclosure. Contact the Office of Records.

3. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

   Family Policy Compliance Office
   U.S. Department of Education
   400 Maryland Avenue, SW
   Washington, DC 20202-5901

   Please direct any questions regarding privacy rights to the Office of Records at records@covenant.edu or call 706-419-1190.

PROGRAMING THAT LEADS TO STATE LICENSURE

Covenant College offers two academic programs that lead to State Licensure in Teacher Education: Elementary Education and a Master of Arts in Teaching (pedagogy only) in various content areas that lead to K-12, 4-8, or 6-12 certification depending on the content. These programs are approved by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (GaPSC) and lead to licensure in the State of Georgia only. Although students may take a portion of the courses for these programs via distance instruction while residing in other states, more than 50% of the instruction is offered in person and will not lead to licensure in any other state. Covenant College has not made a determination that its curriculum meets the state educational requirements for licensure or certification in any state but Georgia. Of course students may apply directly to any other state for licensure within that state and the education department of Covenant College will provide whatever assistance it can. However, the burden of obtaining licensure in any state other than Georgia rests with the graduates of the programs.

States in which Covenant College has not made a determination that its curriculum meets the state educational requirements for licensure or certification in education:

- Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas
- California, Colorado, Connecticut
- Delaware
- Florida
- Hawaii
- Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa

TITLE IX AND VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2013

In addition to the Clery Act which requires annual reporting of statistics for various criminal offenses, forcible and non-forcible sex offenses, and aggravated assault, the VAWA’s SaVE Act provision adds the following:

Domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking to the categories that, if the incident was reported to a campus security authority or local police agency, must be reported under Clery.

The Wetterling Act: Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act

The Jacob Wetterling Crimes Against Children and Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act (Wetterling Act) requires the state to distribute information about sex offenders already required to register in a state, as required under state law, to each institution of higher education in that state at which the person is employed, carried on a vocation, or is a student. The state must then notify the institution “promptly.”

The College is required to advise the campus that this national registry information is at http://services.georgia.gov/gbi/gbisor/SORSearch.jsp. The Director of Safety and Security will serve as the first contact for the state. If there are any questions about the Wetterling Act, please contact the Safety and Security office at 706-419-1209.
Sexual Harassment Policy

Covenant College will not allow any form of sexual harassment or any such conduct that has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive living, work or classroom environment.

Covenant College considers a position against sexual harassment to be thoroughly consistent with the overall mission of the College and its long-standing commitment to traditional Christian values as presented in the Holy Scriptures. Sexual harassment transgresses holy law and, in addition, is a form of illegal discrimination that is abhorrent to the College. Consequently, it is the obligation of each member of the Covenant College community—administrators, faculty, staff, and students—to adhere to this anti-harassment policy.

Sexual harassment is defined to include but not limited to: any unwelcome sexual advance either verbal or physical where submission to the advance is either an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment or enrollment, submission to or rejection of the advance is used as the basis for making employment or enrollment decisions, or such conduct as interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or classroom environment. Examples of sexual harassment are: explicit or implicit promise of career advancement, training, awards, lax time-keeping, or acceptance of lower standards of performance in return for sexual favors; explicit or implicit threats that if sexual conduct is rejected, the employee or student will not be promoted, will receive a poor employment evaluation or grade, or will be assigned to a less desirable position/location; or deliberate, repeated, unsolicited verbal comments, gestures, or physical actions of a sexual nature (e.g., hostile or offensive) thus creating an intimidating working or classroom atmosphere for the employee or student. Sexual harassment as defined in this policy also includes visual forms of a sexual nature (e.g., signs, posters, and the like) unless part of the curriculum. Sexual harassment of any employee or student, whether in a supervisory or pedagogical relationship or not, is prohibited.

Should such conduct occur, be experienced or observed, it should be reported to the employee's immediate supervisor, the Director of Human Resources, or a senior administrator for faculty or staff. An investigation will be promptly initiated, and the findings reported to the senior administrator of the complainant. The College will do its utmost to respect the privacy of all parties involved in the investigation while taking the necessary steps to investigate and resolve the complaint.

Any sexual harassment is considered a major violation of College policy and will be dealt with accordingly by corrective counseling and/or suspension or termination depending upon the severity of the violation.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Graduate work completed at other regionally-accredited institutions may be accepted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the MAT or MEd degrees at Covenant College subject to the following conditions:

- Transfer credit will not be allowed for any course in which the grade received was lower than a B.
- No more than six hours of transfer graduate-level credit may be applied toward the MAT or MEd degree.
- Any course transferred and applied toward the degree must have been taken within six years of the graduation date for the graduate degree. Covenant College does not offer noncredit courses and noncredit coursework is not accepted to fulfill degree requirements.
- Transfer coursework will be evaluated in terms of level, context, quality, comparability, and degree relevance by the appropriate professor and the Dean of the Graduate School of Education. Approval of any transfer credit must be granted prior to registration for the term. Transfer credit forms are included in the application packet, on the website grad.covenant.edu, and may be submitted as part of the application process.

WITHDRAWAL REFUND POLICY

When a student formally withdraws from the college, leaves the college without notice, or does not return from an approved leave of absence, adjustments may result from the refund of expenses and the reduction of financial aid. The date of withdrawal is determined by written application or violation of the attendance policy.

The federal Title IV pro rata percentage will determine the refund or reduction based on the amount of time spent in academic attendance and has no relationship to the student's incurred institutional charges. This pro rata percentage is used to determine the percentage adjustment at the time of withdrawal up through the completion of the 60 percent point in a term. After the 60 percent point, a student has earned 100 percent of the expenses and financial aid for the term. After the last day of late registration, no tuition will be refunded as a result of a load adjustment from dropping a course.
A student who is dismissed for disciplinary reasons will still receive a pro rata percentage reduction of financial aid consistent with federal regulation noted above. Tuition charges will be refunded at a rate of one half of the financial aid pro rata percentage.

Example: Following the example under Withdrawal Refund Policy above, a student who is involuntarily withdrawn on the 10th day would receive an 80 percent pro rata reduction in financial aid, and a 40 percent refund of tuition (one half the financial aid percentage). Tuition charges would be refunded $4,000 and financial aid would still be reduced by $4,800. This will leave a $4,800 tuition charge that is still the responsibility of the student. Other charges will apply as stated in Withdrawal Refund Policy.

- $10,000 Tuition Charges less $4,000 refund ($10,000 x .40) = $6,000 Adjusted Tuition Charge
- $6,000 Financial Aid less $4,800 reduction ($6,000 x .80) = $1,200 Adjusted Available Aid
- $4,800 Remaining Tuition Charge

The effective withdrawal date of a student who withdraws from the College through the Office of Records will be the date on which the student begins the withdrawal process, either orally or in writing, or the last date of attendance at an academically-related activity (e.g. attendance in class, clinical practice, exams). In cases where a student is unable to visit the office, the effective date will be the date the student makes known their intent to withdraw with the Dean of Records: Rodney Miller, 706.419.1190 or miller@covenant.edu.

When a student leaves the College without notice, or receives all F’s or Incomplete grades for a semester, faculty will be contacted to determine the last date of academically-related activity and establish if the student unofficially withdrew. The college will look for evidence of course engagement or lack of course engagement (no response to course due dates) to help determine the effective date for both Title IV and institutional refund purposes. If an effective date cannot be accurately determined, the midpoint of the term will be used as the effective date. A different effective date may be used for refund purposes of institutional expenses compared to Title IV funds when there are differences between the dates the withdrawal was initiated compared to when the student completed the process.

Example: if a term is 100 days long and the student withdraws on the 20th day, 20 percent of the term has been completed resulting in an 80 percent reduction of the tuition and financial aid. If the student was billed for tuition of $10,000 and received financial aid of $6,000, the tuition would be reduced by $8,000 and financial aid reduced by $4,000. This will leave an $800 tuition charge that is still the responsibility of the student. Other charges will apply as stated in this section on refunds.

This refund policy is in compliance with the federal Department of Education Title IV requirements. All financial aid reductions are calculated based on formulas published by and software received from the Department of Education.

The Stephen R. Kaufmann Teaching Prize

Each year the faculty or the Master of Arts in Teaching selects a graduating MAT student to receive the Stephen R. Kaufmann Teaching Prize. This award recognizes Dr. Kaufmann who for 37 years served Covenant College and students preparing for a career in education by faithfully teaching and mentoring future educators. The award is given to a MAT student who exemplifies the mission of Covenant College through a clear call to teaching and diligent preparation for that work. Dr. Kaufmann grade of C (with the exclusion of EDU 395 Clinical Practice II) will be applied to graduation requirements. All coursework applied toward the degree must be taken within six years of degree conferral.

Covenant does not offer noncredit courses and noncredit coursework is not accepted to fulfill degree requirements.

If a student is unable to complete the degree within six years, application may be made to the Dean of the Graduate School of Education to extend the program. If extended, continuation fees apply.

Purpose and Standards of Teacher Education Program

Revised August 2016

COVENANT COLLEGE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

PURPOSE STATEMENT

learning, serving, transforming

The purpose of the teacher education program at Covenant College is to prepare competent and compassionate teachers who practice their profession according to biblical guidelines in diverse educational settings. Candidates develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to become teachers who model life-long learning and faithful service to God as change-agents in society.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION GENERAL LEARNING OUTCOMES

graduate educators will:

1. Apply a Reformed theological framework to educational theory and practice. This framework includes:

   TF1. Christ is preeminent in all things. His life, death, resurrection, and exaltation inaugurated the new age in which Christ is King.

   TF2. The Bible is God’s Word. It provides the grand narrative (creation, fall, redemption) that defines this life, the life to come, provides light to our personal lives, and guides institutional and societal life.
TF3. Humans are multi-dimensional beings made in God’s image, fearfully, wonderfully, and differently made.

TF4. Creation is inherently meaningful and educators are called and providentially guided to unfold its potentialities to the glory of God and the good of humankind.

TF5. All creation is adversely affected by the fall into sin. The battle between the kingdom of God and the kingdom of darkness affects all people, institutions, and cultures.

TF6. God in his grace provides to both believers and unbelievers legitimate insights into the created order, including ways to overcome the effects of the fall across all the domains of life.

TF7. Educators are to be faithful stewards of the gifts, abilities, and interests that God gives us.

TF8. Educators look hopefully to the return of Christ. Living, loving, learning, celebrating, working, worshiping, and serving are shaped today by God’s call to give witness to Jesus Christ.

2. Conduct, apply, and evaluate educational research to improve practice.

3. Describe the role of schools in society over time.

4. Facilitate needed change in practice to close the gap between the current situation (the “is”) and the desired situation (the “ought”).

5. Demonstrate intellectual maturity.

6. Collaborate with stakeholders to build a just and inclusive school community.

STANDARDS FOR TEACHER CANDIDATES

1. Learner Development. The teacher understands how learners grow and develop, recognizing that patterns of learning and development vary individually within and across the cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical areas, and designs and implements developmentally appropriate and challenging learning experiences.

2. Learning Differences. The teacher uses understanding of individual differences and diverse cultures and communities to ensure inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.

3. Learning Environments. The teacher works with others to create environments that support individuals and collaborative learning, and that encourage positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.

4. Content Knowledge. The teacher understands the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the discipline(s) he or she teaches and creates learning experiences that make these aspects of the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners to ensure mastery of the content.

5. Application of Content Knowledge. The teacher understands how to connect concepts and use differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to authentic local and global issues.

INSTRUCTIONAL PRACTICE

6. Assessment. The teacher understands and uses multiple methods of assessment to engage learners in their own growth, to monitor learner progress, and to guide the teacher’s and learner’s decision making.

7. Planning for Instruction. The teacher plans instruction that supports every student in meeting rigorous learning goals by drawing upon knowledge of content areas, curriculum, cross-disciplinary skills, and pedagogy, as well as knowledge of learners and the community context.

8. Instructional Strategies. The teacher understands and uses a variety of instructional strategies to encourage learners to develop deep understanding of content areas and their connections, and to build skills to apply knowledge in meaningful ways.

PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

9. Professional Learning and Ethical Practice. The teacher engages in ongoing professional learning and uses evidence to continually evaluate his/her practice, particularly the effects of his/her choices and actions on others (learners, families, other professionals, and the community), and adapts practice to meet the needs of each learner.

10. Leadership and Collaboration. The teacher seeks appropriate leadership roles and opportunities to take responsibility for student learning, to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals, and community members to ensure learner growth and to advance the profession.

Any incomplete (I) granted for a course not completed by the date specified will be replaced with an F. All work for a course with an incomplete grade must be submitted to the instructor by the specified date or on the Monday morning following if the specified date falls on a weekend.

Incomplete received must be completed by April 1 for students planning to graduate the following year

Students may not register for additional coursework with more than one incomplete course grade. Incomplete Grade Request forms are available from the office of the Graduate School of Education.

mission

The mission of the Covenant College Graduate School of Education is to develop and equip biblically faithful educators.
GSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

graduate educators will:

Apply a Reformed theological framework (TF) to educational theory and practice. This framework includes:

TF1. Christ is preeminent in all things. His life, death, resurrection, and exaltation inaugurated the new age in which Christ is King.

TF2. The Bible is God’s Word. It provides the grand narrative (creation, fall, redemption) that defines this life, the life to come, provides light to our personal lives, and guides institutional and societal life.

TF3. Humans are multi-dimensional beings made in God’s image, fearfully, wonderfully, and differently made.

TF4. Creation is inherently meaningful and educators are called and providentially guided to unfold its potentials to the glory of God and the good of humankind.

TF5. All creation is adversely affected by the fall into sin. The battle between the kingdom of God and the kingdom of darkness affects all people, institutions, and cultures.

TF6. God in his grace provides to both believers and unbelievers legitimate insights into the created order, including ways to overcome the effects of the fall across all the domains of life.

TF7. Educators are to be faithful stewards of the gifts, abilities, and interests that God gives us.

TF8. Educators look hopefully to the return of Christ. Living, loving, learning, celebrating, working, worshiping, and serving are shaped today by God’s call to give witness to Jesus Christ.

APPENDIX A

the purpose of Covenant College
Covenant College is a Christ-centered institution of higher education, emphasizing liberal arts, operated by a Board of Trustees elected by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America, and exists to provide post-secondary educational services to the denomination and the wider public.

The college is committed to the Bible as the Word of God written, and accepts as its most adequate and comprehensive interpretation the summary contained in the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms.

The focus of Covenant College is found in its motto, based on Colossians 1:18 “In All Things...Christ Preeminent.” Acknowledging Christ preeminent as the creator of all things, as the redeemer of people fallen into sin, as the touchstone of all truth, and as the sovereign ruler over all areas of life, the college strives to discern and to unfold the implications of His preeminence in all things. To serve this end, we seek to appropriate the mind of Christ as the biblical perspective from which we characterize and respond to reality. In attempting to make such a biblically-grounded frame of reference explicit and operative, we are committed to excellence in academic inquiry, and we seek to define all areas of the college’s structure and program according to this understanding of our purpose.

We seek to implement our purpose in view of our belief that all human beings are created in the image of God and are, therefore, spiritual, moral, social beings who think, act, value, and exercise dominion. Because we are called to reflect in finite ways what God is infinitely, we attempt to institute programs designed to offer all students the opportunity to discover and give expression to their potential in each facet of their redeemed humanness.
With these commitments in mind, we seek to work together as a college community, responsibly striving, corporately and personally, to accomplish the following general aims in every area of life:

1. to see creation as the handiwork of God and to study it with wonder and respect;
2. to acknowledge the fallen nature of ourselves and of the rest of creation and to respond, in view of the renewal that begins with Christ’s redemption, by seeking to bring every thought and act into obedience to Him;
3. to reclaim the creation for God and to redirect it to the service of God and humankind, receiving the many valuable insights into the structure of reality provided by the good hand of God through thinkers in every age, and seeking to interpret and re-form such insights according to the Scriptures;
4. to see learning as a continuous process and vocation;
5. to endeavor to think scripturally about culture so as to glorify God and promote true human advancement

As an educational institution, Covenant College specifically seeks to provide educational services from a Reformed perspective to the students who enroll. While the traditional undergraduate, on-campus programs remain the primary focus of the college, we recognize that the college has a significant role to fulfill in the education of students in nontraditional categories.

Students are expected to become active participants in fulfilling the general aims just outlined. It is the college’s purpose to help these students make significant progress toward maturity in the following areas:

1. Identity in Christ
   A Covenant student should be a person who is united with Christ and committed to Him. This union and commitment should lead to an understanding both of one’s sin and of one’s significance as a person redeemed by Christ, resulting in a growing awareness of purpose. This awareness of purpose should facilitate the development of goals, priorities, and practices that foster spiritual effectiveness and well-being, including the emotional, social, physical, and intellectual aspects of the individual students.

2. Biblical frame of reference
   Students should be acquiring the ability to orient their lives by a perspective based on scriptural revelation. For realization of this goal the following are important:
   - Scriptural knowledge
     Students should be acquiring a working knowledge of the Scriptures, rejoicing in their promises and allowing them to direct their thoughts and actions in every area of life.
   - Academic inquiry
     Students should be acquiring a broad appreciation of the various aspects of creation, becoming familiar with valid methods of inquiry into each area of study. Each student should be acquiring some depth in one or two academic disciplines.
   - Analytical skills
     Students should be acquiring the capacity for incisive, critical and logical thinking.
   - Communication skills
     Students should be acquiring the ability to communicate ideas clearly in both speaking and writing.

3. Service that is Christ-like
a. Students should be assuming responsibilities within a local congregation as well as in the community of all believers. This implies demonstrating a positive influence on others while at the same time accepting their loving concern.

b. Students should be assuming responsibilities in society as servants of God. This involves a total life-calling to fulfill one’s covenantal responsibilities as succinctly summarized in Genesis 1:28 and Matthew 28:18-20, including not only the student’s specific vocation, but all other activities as well.

the college hymn

All for Jesus

All for Jesus! All for Jesus!
All my being’s ransomed power;
All my thoughts and words and doings;
All my days and all my hours.

Let my hands perform his bidding;

Let my feet run in His ways;
Let my eyes see Jesus only;
Let my lips speak forth His praise.

Worldlings prize their gems of beauty,
Cling to gilded toys of dust;
Boast of wealth and fame and pleasure—
Only Jesus will I trust.

Since my eyes were fixed on Jesus,
I’ve lost sight of all beside,
So enchained my spirit’s vision,
Looking at the crucified.

Oh what wonder! How amazing!
Jesus, glorious King of Kings,
Deigns to call me His beloved,
Lets me rest beneath His wings.

Amen.

motto, thistle logo, and tartan

Covenant’s motto, “In all things Christ preeminent,” is based on the Apostle Paul’s letter to the Colossian church, in which he reminds young believers of Jesus Christ’s central and exalted role in relationship to the created order: “He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities - all things were created through him and for him. And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together. And he is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent.” (Colossians 1:15-18) Jesus Christ’s status as the firstborn of all creation is the foundation of Covenant’s educational mission, as the College seeks as a community of learning to know and celebrate his preeminence in all dimensions of existence.

The thistle has been used as a logo from the earliest days of the College and is used as a logo from the earliest days of the College and is used in the College shield. The thistle has a much longer history as the national symbol of Scotland. In the College’s context, the thistle points to the distinctly Scottish heritage of Presbyterianism. But for the Scots themselves it is a reminder of the legendary day in 1263 when the invading Vikings of King Haakon IV stepped on the prickly spurs and cried out in pain, thus alerting the sleeping Scots of their presence. The Norsemen would never rule over or attack the Scots again. Offset in the right-hand side of the college shield is a swatch of Covenant tartan. Many academic shields contain some sort of symmetrical chevron, cross, or division. Covenant, in keeping with that tradition, employs a chevron in its shield. The swatch of plaid used for the chevron is derived from the Clergy tartan worn in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries by Scottish pastors and employed by the College in various uses. The Covenant tartan is used in the Covenant graduate hood.
